Re: Human Rights Police Brutality and Non-Binary recognition in Circuit Court Judgment — abandoned by FLAC & TENI - having to go to the EU and a referral to the Helsinki Centre for the Treatment of Torture Victims

From TENI Office <office@teni.ie>

To E.F. Fluff[redacted]

Date Thursday, December 4th, 2025 at 5:25 PM

Dear E.F.,

From my understanding of your email to us, I can see there are two main points you are looking for:

- Do we agree with you that there is a court decision where a Judge recognises you as a non-binary person and uses your correct pronouns?
Yes, I can see, and have read the decision you sent, and can see that a Judge referred to you using your correct pronouns of They/Them.

- Do we agree that it creates legal recognition for non-binary people in Ireland?
This is not something we can comment on because we are not legally qualified to give legal advice. Only a lawyer can answer this question for you. I am not suggesting that we disagree with you, only that we are not able to say yes or no to that question, regardless of our opinion on it, because that would likely be construed as providing legal advice.

A Judge in a Court of Law may refer to you using your preferred pronouns, but this doesn't automatically change the law or create legal recognition, they can and should refer to you using your preferred pronouns, just like anyone should. As a Judge, if they have a personal belief that non-binary people should be recognised and have their names and pronouns respected, they are entitled to do that. That said, a judge can only interpret the law, they cannot create new law. In previous cases where recognition of identities has led to legal change, it is generally because of cases revolving around breaches of the Right to Privacy section of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights. For example:

- David Norris - Norris took a case in the Irish Courts against the state arguing that criminalisation of consensual sexual activity between adult men was a violation of his constitutional rights. He lost this case. He then took his case to the European Court of Human Rights which found, in 1988, that our laws were a violation of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights. The Judge was not creating a new law here, but making a decision that our laws were in violation of the rights to privacy under the ECHR. The Irish Government then changed the law via national legislation in 1993.

- Dr. Lydia Foy - Foy took a case in the High Court of Ireland. In 2002, the High Court acknowledged her suffering but affirmed that Irish law did not permit gender changes on birth certificates. There was a separate case in the European Courts, Goodwin v UK, which ruled that transgender people should, under Article 8 of the ECHR, be able to obtain legal recognition. After this decision, Foy took another case in 2007 and won, because there was clarity around the European Convention. Ireland's national legislation was then updated 8 years later to introduce the Gender Recognition Act.

However, as mentioned above, only a lawyer would be able to tell you whether the decision you have from a judge is enough to decipher that there is legal recognition in law, and whether that is enough to take a case further, or if it is just something similar to an obiter dictum which is a remark or observation made in a court by a judge which does not carry any legal weight. Not everything said by a judge in a court or on a written statement automatically carries legal weight.

To be clear, we want to see the Gender Recognition Act updated and for the Irish state to provide full legal recognition for non-binary people. We have done work on that this year, including advocating for this in the Oireachtas, and hosting a conference on it.

If you seek legal advice regarding your questions on if this would constitute legal recognition, we would love to know about the response you get so please do feel free to update us.

All the best,
Saoirse

Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Tue, 2 Dec 2025 at 15:55, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> Reread the Judgment.
>
> That is making new Law.
>
> Reread the Judgment.
>
> Here I have attached the Judgment in several file types since TENI appears to have difficulty.
>
> Third page combined file.
>
> Judge Melanie Greally now Justice Melanie Greally of the Irish High Court.
>
> E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

--

I don't know why TENI insists on being so abusive to me.

That is a court of law clearly recognising a non-binary person and affirming non-binary pronouns. It may not be the same as having an X marker or explicit statutory recognition in the Gender Recognition Act, but it is part of Irish law and has real legal consequences for all non-binary people and all gender non-conforming.

I need to correct something very important. You wrote that non-binary identities are not legally recognised under Irish law. My Dublin Circuit Court judgment issued by a now sitting Justice on the Irish High Court - Ms. Justice Melanie Greally does more than simply “acknowledge” me – it creates a legal precedent which, at a minimum, allows all non-binary people to be recognised as non-binary in Irish courts.

The only way that can be prevented or changed is by a Judge issued in a higher Court. Which now becomes more difficult as the Judge who issued it, is herself, a Justice.

TENI has been engaged in horrific gaslighting of me.

I do not understand why.

Given TENI's stated role, I would expect at least an acknowledgment that this judgment exists and that it is legally significant, even if it does not amount to full legislative reform. I would appreciate it if you and your colleagues could reread the judgment with this in mind.

To be clear: In my case before the Circuit Court, Judge Melanie Greally (who is now a Justice of the High Court) issued a written judgment which expressly recognises me as non-binary and records my pronouns as they/them. This is not just a courtesy – it is part of a court decision and, in practice, it makes new law. At a minimum, it establishes that non-binary people can be recognised as non-binary in Irish courts.

This is not a casual remark. It is a written Circuit Court judgment:

- It explicitly recognises me as non-binary;
- It explicitly affirms they/them pronouns; and
- It does so within the reasoning of a published decision of a superior court.

That is new law in practice. At the very least, it establishes that any non-binary person before an Irish court is entitled to be treated and referred to as non-binary, with correct pronouns, on the basis of this precedent.

Do the rest of the Trans community and Non-Binary know TENI has been suppressing this?

Stop calling me mad, it is deeply insulting and invalidating. It is snide and awful.

I am sorry I am not the picture perfect ideal TENI thought would secure this landmark Judgment.

But it exists. It is there. I fought for it. I was tortured and sexually assaulted for it, at gunpoint and not.
This is not a purely theoretical issue for me. It is about how Irish law has already changed, and how that change is (or is not) being recognised by organisations like TENI.

I would appreciate it if you and your colleagues could carefully reread the judgment, and respond on the basis that it does make new law and has consequences for all non-binary people in Ireland, not just for me.

This is going to look very bad for TENI when I take this to the EU.

Kind regards,

E.F. Fluff

On Tuesday, 2 December 2025 at 13:34, TENI Office <office@teni.ie> wrote:

> Hi E.F.,
>
> Thanks for your response.
>
> I understand you have contacted us a few times over the past few years. TENI Staff has changed multiple times since TENI began in 2006 and it is likely you have engaged with several people during this time who no longer work in TENI.
>
> TENI was not an organisation when Dr. Lydia Foy began her case and for the majority of the time she was fighting for change, and we were not involved in those legal cases.
>
> Regarding cases, because we are not lawyers, we are not able to provide any legal advice or assistance. Your experiences are terrible and we feel for you having to experience that, but we are unable to offer legal support. Unfortunately, Non-Binary identities are not legally recognised under Irish law. TENI has done some work on this to get this changed, including meeting with politicians and holding a conference on it this year. However, as it stands, Ireland legally only recognises Male and Female - we hope this will change soon.
>
> Most of the support we can assist with is around peer support, signposting and advocacy with legislators. If you would like to attend peer support groups, we would be happy to put you in touch with any in your area, or if you need to attend a counselling service, we know of a few available including;
> Turn2Me - who offer 6 free sessions for all residents of Ireland
> MyMind - who offer low-cost counselling
>
> Please note, we do not run these, nor are we affiliated with them, and therefore we can not vouch for them - they are just services we have heard good things about in the past.
>
> I hope this helps,
> Saoirse
>
> Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
> Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
> 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
> www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Wed, 26 Nov 2025 at 17:06, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> I think an organisation working on trans equality can and should support, at least in some way, a person who was tortured and sexually assaulted by Gardaí for being non-binary, and who is also, as far as I am aware, the first non-binary person recognised in an Irish court judgment.
>
> I'm asking TENI to confirm that. Legal Historians told me that. I want TENI to confirm it.
>
> That getting proven means TENI basically ignored it when I told them. And denied people the knowledge that there was legal precedent that they could be THEY/THEM in Court.
>
> Which is going to be a terrible look for TENI. If it's wrong and the historians were wrong. Then I'm fine and I was misled.
>
> Over several years I have asked TENI for help or at least some form of support or accompaniment, and each time I have effectively been told there is nothing you can do. The reasons given have shifted, but the outcome is always the same: I am left entirely alone facing the consequences of exposing Kevin Street Gardaí's conduct, torture, abuse, transphobic violence and harassment.
>
> I need clarity from TENI on a simple point: is this a limitation that applies to all non-binary people in my situation, or is it only this non-binary person – me – who is considered outside the scope of your support? TENI has supported other strategic cases, like Dr Lydia Foy's. I am trying to understand why my case – involving torture, sexual assault, and a landmark non-binary judgment – is treated as unworthy of any meaningful support.
>
> What makes me worthless?

Not even lip service support?

I would appreciate a clear explanation of what, if anything, TENI can realistically offer in a case like mine, or whether I should understand that I will continue to have no support from your organisation at all.

This has driven me into penury, absolute extreme profound poverty. What will FLAC do? Considering they've refused help, while I was being tortured and abused.

None of this reflects well.

I have filed with the OCHR and I'm more more organisations. I've referred to for treatment for torture victims.

You can't remain silent forever.

E.F. Fluff

On Friday, 14 November 2025 at 14:23, TENI Office <office@teni.ie> wrote:

> Dear E.F,
>
> We received your email regarding the issues you have experienced in Kevin Street Garda Station.
>
> We are sorry to hear about your experiences, and how this has affected you. TENI can engage in training and education for organisations such as An Garda Siochána, but we are unfortunately unable to support complaints or legal processes – it is not our area of expertise, and situations like this will require significant delicacy and expertise.
>
> If FLAC are unable to support, they may be able to link you in with other legal support or services. If you would like TENI to link in with a legal or support service you're working with, we can see if this is possible.
>
> I am sorry again to hear about this and I hope you get the support you need to progress.
>
> I wish you all the best going forward and if we can be of any additional help, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
>
> Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
> Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
> 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
> www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Fri, 31 Oct 2025 at 01:56, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> Disabled non-binary person.
>
> Back in 2021 and 2022, after I had secured a 4E Dismissal in the Dublin Circuit Court before Judge Melanie Greally (now Justice Greally), and exposed a number of Gards for perjury and fraudulent cases, with evidence in part related to the central Kevin Street Gard - A168 Brian Peter Gillan-dating back through his available case history via contacting European Expert witnesses to review the texts and falsely claimed injures.
>
> I've been told that Judgment is the first recognition of a non-binary person in an Irish Court Judgment and that I made new Law.
>
> One would think a judgment like that would stop the violence from Kevin Street. It only made it worse.
>
> Under the weight of regular illegal punishment raids, torture - such as the incident captured on CCTV where I was left with additional spine damage.
>
> Repeatedly assaulted at gunpoint, sexually tortured at gunpoint, sexually at gunpoint.
>
> Forced to strip at the threat of violence so my genitals could be checked - laughingly informed it was not a strip search. Made to turn little circles while they laughed.
>
> Sexually molested by a Detective in Irish Town Garda Station, who now apparently works out of Salt Hill.And he did it, kept talking about my child abuse.
>
> The GSOC operative who destroyed the first complaint moved first to the Data

Protection Ombudsman, and now is highly placed in TUSLA.

The Kevin Street inspector I have phone recording of admitting collusion to commit perjury in seventeen Gardaí—according to later Court testimony—became head of Investigations at GSOC.

The Gard who slowly broke my wrists and thumbs in a St. James Hospital room; still editing my PULSE page as and when malice takes him.

The nightmare of Garda abuse and brutality has continued.

Do the members of FLAC still think I should exist outside the protections of any Human Rights organisation to be abused at will by Gards I evidenced taking fraudulent cases. With no support, no voice?

I begged FLAC for help back then.

Human Rights Activists had to get me out of Ireland before the abuse escalated again.

The Kevin Street Gards then began telling foreign police a malicious fabrication about me compounded by criminally falsified PULSE records. Has led to the Gards having me subjected to violence by proxy.

Are the members of FLAC still of the opinion I'm not worth assistance? To protect a group of Gards systematically defrauding the Irish State?

While the same Gards hold me a prison of fraud and violence to prevent PIAB and the obvious criminal charges that should come?

Do I have to go through Europe, the Commission, the OCHR, on my own?

Because a hideously abusive well-connected female parent wanted to prevent a historic abuse complaint and punish me for coming out as non-binary?
And lied about my time living in Finland being a delusion—and I was able to secure my release by proving I was in fact and had been a resident of Finland.

I now have Helsinki Police telling me that Kevin Street have told them that I'm some sort of violent against police criminal.
I'm disabled. I have an unblemished record. Yet I have armed police here, telling me based on what Kevin Street has told them, they're nervous dealing with me.

I have a referral to the Helsinki Centre for the Treatment of Torture Victims

I've had to put this together:

https://effluff.bearblog.dev/

I have to ask—do FLAC still think I'm not the right type of human or person to get assistance?

Do TENI still think I'm the wrong type of non-binary?

Does the terror and deprivation they kept me trapped in, still somehow equate to me being of sound mind, despite psychiatric papers that state the exact opposite?

Or does FLAC admit there's a wider problem of corruption?

What phone calls do I have to publish?

I've been abandoned to this for quite a long time.

Will there be help this time?

I'd like answers please.

Kevin Street corruption has stolen seven years of my life, and destroyed every single aspect of it.

kind regards,

E.F. Fluff

[redacted]

This will shortly published, as I record the path to the EU and other complaint bodies.

Re: Human Rights Police Brutality and Non-Binary recognition in Circuit Court Judgment — abandoned by FLAC & TENI - having to go to the EU and a referral to the Helsinki Centre for the Treatment of Torture Victims

From TENI Office <office@teni.ie>

To E.F. Fluff[redacted]

Date Thursday, December 4th, 2025 at 5:25 PM

Dear E.F.,

From my understanding of your email to us, I can see there are two main points you are looking for:

- Do we agree with you that there is a court decision where a Judge recognises you as a non-binary person and uses your correct pronouns?
Yes, I can see, and have read the decision you sent, and can see that a Judge referred to you using your correct pronouns of They/Them.

- Do we agree that it creates legal recognition for non-binary people in Ireland?
This is not something we can comment on because we are not legally qualified to give legal advice. Only a lawyer can answer this question for you. I am not suggesting that we disagree with you, only that we are not able to say yes or no to that question, regardless of our opinion on it, because that would likely be construed as providing legal advice.

A Judge in a Court of Law may refer to you using your preferred pronouns, but this doesn't automatically change the law or create legal recognition, they can and should refer to you using your preferred pronouns, just like anyone should. As a Judge, if they have a personal belief that non-binary people should be recognised and have their names and pronouns respected, they are entitled to do that. That said, a judge can only interpret the law, they cannot create new law. In previous cases where recognition of identities has led to legal change, it is generally because of cases revolving around breaches of the Right to Privacy section of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights. For example:

- David Norris - Norris took a case in the Irish Courts against the state arguing that criminalisation of consensual sexual activity between adult men was a violation of his constitutional rights. He lost this case. He then took his case to the European Court of Human Rights which found, in 1988, that our laws were a violation of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights. The Judge was not creating a new law here, but making a decision that our laws were in violation of the rights to privacy under the ECHR. The Irish Government then changed the law via national legislation in 1993.

- Dr. Lydia Foy - Foy took a case in the High Court of Ireland. In 2002, the High Court acknowledged her suffering but affirmed that Irish law did not permit gender changes on birth certificates. There was a separate case in the European Courts, Goodwin v UK, which ruled that transgender people should, under Article 8 of the ECHR, be able to obtain legal recognition. After this decision, Foy took another case in 2007 and won, because there was clarity around the European Convention. Ireland's national legislation was then updated 8 years later to introduce the Gender Recognition Act.

However, as mentioned above, only a lawyer would be able to tell you whether the decision you have from a judge is enough to decipher that there is legal recognition in law, and whether that is enough to take a case further, or if it is just something similar to an obiter dictum which is a remark or observation made in a court by a judge which does not carry any legal weight. Not everything said by a judge in a court or on a written statement automatically carries legal weight.

To be clear, we want to see the Gender Recognition Act updated and for the Irish state to provide full legal recognition for non-binary people. We have done work on that this year, including advocating for this in the Oireachtas, and hosting a conference on it.

If you seek legal advice regarding your questions on if this would constitute legal recognition, we would love to know about the response you get so please do feel free to update us.

All the best,
Saoirse

Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Tue, 2 Dec 2025 at 15:55, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> Reread the Judgment.
>
> That is making new Law.
>
> Reread the Judgment.
>
> Here I have attached the Judgment in several file types since TENI appears to have difficulty.
>
> Third page combined file.
>
> Judge Melanie Greally now Justice Melanie Greally of the Irish High Court.
>
> E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

E.F Fluff

This decision concerns an application by the Applicant EF Fluff (redacted former name done to deadname and abuse) under Section 4(E) of the Criminal Procedure Act 1967 as inserted by Section 9 of the Criminal Justice Act 1999, to dismiss the case against them on the basis of insufficient evidence.

For the sake of clarity, the Applicant is a non-binary person, therefore, the applicable pronouns are they and them.

--

I don't know why TENI insists on being so abusive to me.

That is a court of law clearly recognising a non-binary person and affirming non-binary pronouns. It may not be the same as having an X marker or explicit statutory recognition in the Gender Recognition Act, but it is part of Irish law and has real legal consequences for all non-binary people and all gender non-conforming.

I need to correct something very important. You wrote that non-binary identities are not legally recognised under Irish law. My Dublin Circuit Court judgment issued by a now sitting Justice on the Irish High Court - Ms. Justice Melanie Greally does more than simply “acknowledge” me – it creates a legal precedent which, at a minimum, allows all non-binary people to be recognised as non-binary in Irish courts.

The only way that can be prevented or changed is by a Judge issued in a higher Court. Which now becomes more difficult as the Judge who issued it, is herself, a Justice.

TENI has been engaged in horrific gaslighting of me.

I do not understand why.

Given TENI's stated role, I would expect at least an acknowledgment that this judgment exists and that it is legally significant, even if it does not amount to full legislative reform. I would appreciate it if you and your colleagues could reread the judgment with this in mind.

To be clear: In my case before the Circuit Court, Judge Melanie Greally (who is now a Justice of the High Court) issued a written judgment which expressly recognises me as non-binary and records my pronouns as they/them. This is not just a courtesy – it is part of a court decision and, in practice, it makes new law. At a minimum, it establishes that non-binary people can be recognised as non-binary in Irish courts.

This is not a casual remark. It is a written Circuit Court judgment:

- It explicitly recognises me as non-binary;
- It explicitly affirms they/them pronouns; and
- It does so within the reasoning of a published decision of a superior court.

That is new law in practice. At the very least, it establishes that any non-binary person before an Irish court is entitled to be treated and referred to as non-binary, with correct pronouns, on the basis of this precedent.

Do the rest of the Trans community and Non-Binary know TENI has been suppressing this?

Stop calling me mad, it is deeply insulting and invalidating. It is snide and awful.

I am sorry I am not the picture perfect ideal TENI thought would secure this landmark Judgment.

But it exists. It is there. I fought for it. I was tortured and sexually assaulted for it, at gunpoint and not.
This is not a purely theoretical issue for me. It is about how Irish law has already changed, and how that change is (or is not) being recognised by organisations like TENI.

I would appreciate it if you and your colleagues could carefully reread the judgment, and respond on the basis that it does make new law and has consequences for all non-binary people in Ireland, not just for me.

This is going to look very bad for TENI when I take this to the EU.

Kind regards,

E.F. Fluff

On Tuesday, 2 December 2025 at 13:34, TENI Office <office@teni.ie> wrote:

> Hi E.F.,
>
> Thanks for your response.
>
> I understand you have contacted us a few times over the past few years. TENI Staff has changed multiple times since TENI began in 2006 and it is likely you have engaged with several people during this time who no longer work in TENI.
>
> TENI was not an organisation when Dr. Lydia Foy began her case and for the majority of the time she was fighting for change, and we were not involved in those legal cases.
>
> Regarding cases, because we are not lawyers, we are not able to provide any legal advice or assistance. Your experiences are terrible and we feel for you having to experience that, but we are unable to offer legal support. Unfortunately, Non-Binary identities are not legally recognised under Irish law. TENI has done some work on this to get this changed, including meeting with politicians and holding a conference on it this year. However, as it stands, Ireland legally only recognises Male and Female - we hope this will change soon.
>
> Most of the support we can assist with is around peer support, signposting and advocacy with legislators. If you would like to attend peer support groups, we would be happy to put you in touch with any in your area, or if you need to attend a counselling service, we know of a few available including;
> Turn2Me - who offer 6 free sessions for all residents of Ireland
> MyMind - who offer low-cost counselling
>
> Please note, we do not run these, nor are we affiliated with them, and therefore we can not vouch for them - they are just services we have heard good things about in the past.
>
> I hope this helps,
> Saoirse
>
> Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
> Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
> 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
> www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Wed, 26 Nov 2025 at 17:06, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> I think an organisation working on trans equality can and should support, at least in some way, a person who was tortured and sexually assaulted by Gardaí for being non-binary, and who is also, as far as I am aware, the first non-binary person recognised in an Irish court judgment.
>
> I'm asking TENI to confirm that. Legal Historians told me that. I want TENI to confirm it.
>
> That getting proven means TENI basically ignored it when I told them. And denied people the knowledge that there was legal precedent that they could be THEY/THEM in Court.
>
> Which is going to be a terrible look for TENI. If it's wrong and the historians were wrong. Then I'm fine and I was misled.
>
> Over several years I have asked TENI for help or at least some form of support or accompaniment, and each time I have effectively been told there is nothing you can do. The reasons given have shifted, but the outcome is always the same: I am left entirely alone facing the consequences of exposing Kevin Street Gardaí's conduct, torture, abuse, transphobic violence and harassment.
>
> I need clarity from TENI on a simple point: is this a limitation that applies to all non-binary people in my situation, or is it only this non-binary person – me – who is considered outside the scope of your support? TENI has supported other strategic cases, like Dr Lydia Foy's. I am trying to understand why my case – involving torture, sexual assault, and a landmark non-binary judgment – is treated as unworthy of any meaningful support.
>
> What makes me worthless?

Not even lip service support?

I would appreciate a clear explanation of what, if anything, TENI can realistically offer in a case like mine, or whether I should understand that I will continue to have no support from your organisation at all.

This has driven me into penury, absolute extreme profound poverty. What will FLAC do? Considering they've refused help, while I was being tortured and abused.

None of this reflects well.

I have filed with the OCHR and I'm more more organisations. I've referred to for treatment for torture victims.

You can't remain silent forever.

E.F. Fluff

On Friday, 14 November 2025 at 14:23, TENI Office <office@teni.ie> wrote:

> Dear E.F,
>
> We received your email regarding the issues you have experienced in Kevin Street Garda Station.
>
> We are sorry to hear about your experiences, and how this has affected you. TENI can engage in training and education for organisations such as An Garda Siochána, but we are unfortunately unable to support complaints or legal processes – it is not our area of expertise, and situations like this will require significant delicacy and expertise.
>
> If FLAC are unable to support, they may be able to link you in with other legal support or services. If you would like TENI to link in with a legal or support service you're working with, we can see if this is possible.
>
> I am sorry again to hear about this and I hope you get the support you need to progress.
>
> I wish you all the best going forward and if we can be of any additional help, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
>
> Transgender Equality Network Ireland,
> Outhouse LGBTQ+ Centre,
> 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1, D01 R290
> www.teni.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland

Transgender
Family Support Line
Families Supporting Families
01 907 3707

HSE Social Inclusion
National Social Inclusion Office

An Roinn Leanaí, Comhionannais, Míchumais, Lánpháirtíochta agus Óige
Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a company limited by guarantee registered in Dublin, Ireland. Reg. Number 481106 with its registered office at 105 Capel Street, Dublin 1 D01 R290, Ireland.

Transgender Equality Network Ireland Company Limited By Guarantee is a registered charity with the Charities Regulatory Authority (Ireland) No. 20206772 and the Revenue Commissioners CHY23245.

Directors: Caoimhe O'Brien (Chairperson), Alec Baker, Dearbhla Doherty, Juracy Junyor, Philip Gavin, Caitríona Nic Aodha, Nick Woodards

Company Secretary: Philip Gavin

On Fri, 31 Oct 2025 at 01:56, E.F. Fluff [redacted] wrote:

> Hi,
>
> Disabled non-binary person.
>
> Back in 2021 and 2022, after I had secured a 4E Dismissal in the Dublin Circuit Court before Judge Melanie Greally (now Justice Greally), and exposed a number of Gards for perjury and fraudulent cases, with evidence in part related to the central Kevin Street Gard - A168 Brian Peter Gillan-dating back through his available case history via contacting European Expert witnesses to review the texts and falsely claimed injures.
>
> I've been told that Judgment is the first recognition of a non-binary person in an Irish Court Judgment and that I made new Law.
>
> One would think a judgment like that would stop the violence from Kevin Street. It only made it worse.
>
> Under the weight of regular illegal punishment raids, torture - such as the incident captured on CCTV where I was left with additional spine damage.
>
> Repeatedly assaulted at gunpoint, sexually tortured at gunpoint, sexually at gunpoint.
>
> Forced to strip at the threat of violence so my genitals could be checked - laughingly informed it was not a strip search. Made to turn little circles while they laughed.
>
> Sexually molested by a Detective in Irish Town Garda Station, who now apparently works out of Salt Hill.And he did it, kept talking about my child abuse.
>
> The GSOC operative who destroyed the first complaint moved first to the Data

Protection Ombudsman, and now is highly placed in TUSLA.

The Kevin Street inspector I have phone recording of admitting collusion to commit perjury in seventeen Gardaí—according to later Court testimony—became head of Investigations at GSOC.

The Gard who slowly broke my wrists and thumbs in a St. James Hospital room; still editing my PULSE page as and when malice takes him.

The nightmare of Garda abuse and brutality has continued.

Do the members of FLAC still think I should exist outside the protections of any Human Rights organisation to be abused at will by Gards I evidenced taking fraudulent cases. With no support, no voice?

I begged FLAC for help back then.

Human Rights Activists had to get me out of Ireland before the abuse escalated again.

The Kevin Street Gards then began telling foreign police a malicious fabrication about me compounded by criminally falsified PULSE records. Has led to the Gards having me subjected to violence by proxy.

Are the members of FLAC still of the opinion I'm not worth assistance? To protect a group of Gards systematically defrauding the Irish State?

While the same Gards hold me a prison of fraud and violence to prevent PIAB and the obvious criminal charges that should come?

Do I have to go through Europe, the Commission, the OCHR, on my own?

Because a hideously abusive well-connected female parent wanted to prevent a historic abuse complaint and punish me for coming out as non-binary?
And lied about my time living in Finland being a delusion—and I was able to secure my release by proving I was in fact and had been a resident of Finland.

I now have Helsinki Police telling me that Kevin Street have told them that I'm some sort of violent against police criminal.
I'm disabled. I have an unblemished record. Yet I have armed police here, telling me based on what Kevin Street has told them, they're nervous dealing with me.

I have a referral to the Helsinki Centre for the Treatment of Torture Victims

I've had to put this together:

https://effluff.bearblog.dev/

I have to ask—do FLAC still think I'm not the right type of human or person to get assistance?

Do TENI still think I'm the wrong type of non-binary?

Does the terror and deprivation they kept me trapped in, still somehow equate to me being of sound mind, despite psychiatric papers that state the exact opposite?

Or does FLAC admit there's a wider problem of corruption?

What phone calls do I have to publish?

I've been abandoned to this for quite a long time.

Will there be help this time?

I'd like answers please.

Kevin Street corruption has stolen seven years of my life, and destroyed every single aspect of it.

kind regards,

E.F. Fluff

[redacted]

This will shortly published, as I record the path to the EU and other complaint bodies.